Digital Capacity Grants | FY2022 Guidelines

4/7/2022: Clarification: The Digital Capacity grant program is open only to Vermont-based 501 (c)(3) cultural organizations (such as museums, historical societies, arts centers, and nonprofit theaters and galleries) who meet the eligibility requirements outlined in the guidelines. In addition, an unincorporated group or a registered Vermont nonprofit that does not have federal tax-exempt status may use a fiscal agent to apply. See complete eligibility information below.

Building a strong digital foundation for arts and culture organizations is essential to Vermont’s recovery from the impact of COVID-19. Many arts and culture organizations increased their digital capacity and expanded online programming in response to the challenges of the pandemic. Engaging with audiences through digital media will be an ongoing need for Vermont’s arts and culture sector as we move forward.

In response to this need, the Vermont legislature approved $1.15 million in funding to the Arts Council to help build the digital capacity of Vermont cultural organizations. Digital Capacity Grants are intended to support Vermont’s arts and culture organizations as they navigate this transition by providing them with the skills, equipment, and expertise they need to serve their audiences and community.

Who May Apply
- Any Vermont-based 501 (c)(3) cultural organization whose mission is centered on arts and/or humanities may apply, including museums, historical societies, arts centers, and nonprofit theaters and galleries
- Organizations that received Cultural Relief (2020) or Cultural Recovery Grants (2021), Vermont Economic Recovery Grants, or other forms of state or federal COVID relief are eligible to apply for this grant

Fiscal Agents
An unincorporated group or a registered Vermont nonprofit that does not have federal tax-exempt status may use a fiscal agent. The fiscal agent form must be completed and uploaded with the application.

Organization Grants: Organizations may apply for funding to increase their own digital capacity. Organization grant awards range from $5,000 to $30,000 depending on the scope of the project and the organization’s operating budget.

Collaborative Grants: A limited number of multi-year grants (up to three years; $60,000 - $150,000 total grant) will be available to support collaborative efforts designed to increase the digital capacity of a cultural community in a particular region or focused on a particular content area or type of cultural organizations. Examples could include:

- a public access channel collaborating with a group of local arts and humanities organizations for production services and training
- a group of museums collaborating on a virtual exhibition initiative

Please be in touch with program coordinator Amy Cunningham before applying for a collaborative grant.

What Digital Capacity Grants Support

We recognize that Vermont’s cultural organizations have varying levels of digital readiness and different needs, from identifying the best equipment to live-stream a performance, to navigating streaming rights or hiring a website designer. Grant funds may be used for a broad range of activities related to creation, distribution, and marketing of digital content for public audiences, including:

- Enhancing an organization’s website, including e-commerce/ticketing platforms
- Establishing a social media marketing strategy
- Digital initiatives to engage new audiences
• Equipment purchase or rental necessary for digital content
• Staff training related to digital content development
• Staff positions dedicated to digital work
• Contract services (for example, live captioners for virtual events, fees for web designers or attorneys)
• Cost of streaming platforms and/or licensing rights

Applicants may choose to apply for a specific project (a website redesign project or a virtual programming series, as examples) or several identified needs that collectively increase the organization’s digital capacity.
